

How can automating documents increase profitability?

Thomson Reuters Contract Express

The document automation solution that's good for your bottom line

How can we help accurately streamline your document creation process today?

Some of the world's most prestigious law firms are using Contract Express to drive document creation efficiency. They have discovered that it can help them reduce unrecoverable hours and increase profitability.

THE CONTRACT EXPRESS DIFFERENCE

Contract Express Author, our proven Microsoft® Word-based template creation tool, is one of the most advanced and easy-to-use systems available. Its natural language markup eliminates delays, errors, costs, loss of trust, and overall lack of feasibility of legacy tools. Lawyers can do the work themselves without having to always rely on IT programmers to automate their legal templates.

How can document automation drive profits?

Innovative law firms are using Contract Express to drive profits by reducing unrecoverable hours in the drafting steps of a transaction. They've found that when they streamline document creation they can make better use of fee earner time. And that makes it possible to engage in sustainable alternative fee arrangements that result in better service delivery to clients.

Create the first draft quicker

Associates and paralegals can now rapidly draft documents with the appropriate house styles, formatting, and references. The potential for time saving in fixed-fee engagements is enormous. After all, entire suites of complementary documents can be drafted in a single task. And the average time saved by law firms using Contract Express is 82% according to regular surveys of users.

Create any sort of document

Use Contract Express to create consistent and compliant engagement letters, and other firm administrative documents where speed, consistency, compliance, integration with other systems, and cost reduction are vital.

How does Contract Express help retain key clients?

Contract Express helps law firms achieve even more "stickiness" with existing clients by integrating document automation services directly into their clients' businesses. This can be done through customised client dashboards where clients can only access pre-approved templates.

Generate document packages

Create data-driven workflows for processing foreclosures and other volume matters on behalf of large corporate clients on-shore, yet at a price that satisfies the clients and results in a healthy profit for the partnership.

Collaborate with clients

Law firms can provide clients with user-specific dashboards where they can complete an intelligent, interactive online questionnaire and either instantly access the generated Word document or have it automatically sent to an associate for review. The questionnaire can also be initiated by sending clients a link via email. And all questionnaires can be customised so they carry the firm's brand.
